DAILY GAZETTE.

From the Taunton Gazette.

From Fort Monroe.

We are permitted to publish the following interesting letter from Fort Monroe, containing an excellent narrative of the experience of our military friends from this place in reaching and occupying that position:

FORT MONROE, April 23, 1861.

DEAR FRIEND:—I am just informed that a schooner will take letters to Boston. I have been so busy one way and another, that I had not had a moment to write since entering the fort.

Our passage from Fall River to New York was very long (from 11½ o'clock p. m. to 7 o'clock p. m.), and as tedious as long to most. For want of cooks, we were not well supplied with eatables. The vessel was not well ballasted, and we were overloaded and unfit for the voyage. Arriving at New York, the vessel was ballasted by filling her hold with coal, and from thence on we had a pleasant passage. At New York we spent Thursday night on board the boat at the wharf; the officers taking tea at the Astor House, by invitation of the keeper. About 4 o'clock Friday morning we left New York and had a pleasant passage. Mr. Stetson of the Astor put on board the boat a number of servants, and we were able to get a fair supply of food.

We arrived off this fort at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, but stood off again, fearing to go in lest it might be in the hands of the seceders. While we approached the coast of Virginia, we selected about one hundred of the sharp-shooters, and required them to be ready at a moment's notice, in order to be prepared for any vessel lying in wait for us. At about 3 o'clock a. m., a steamer hove in sight, and immediately threw up signal rockets. We put out all the lights in the boat, called up the shooters, all of whose guns were loaded with ball, and placed a guard so that the rest of the men should not rush on deck and upset the boat. The other steamer then put out her lights, and we were somewhat anxious for a time. Indeed, many of us did not take off our clothes or sleep a wink that night. We waited until sunrise, when the U. S. flag was run up on the fort, and we gave it hearty cheers, I assure you; glad to see it we were, on many accounts.

On arrival at the wharf, we were disembarked and marched into the fort. Glad enough were the officers and soldiers in the fort. They had been doing a very laborious duty, and were exceedingly anxious lest they should be surprised. The fort is a beautiful place; encloses 50 acres of land; has a wall between 45 and 50 feet high, of brick and stone, and from 35 to 40 feet wide; has a moat about it some 35 feet wide in most places, and six feet depth of water in the moat. Three hundred guns, besides a large number of mortars, can be placed in the casemate and on parapets.—In case of a siege—that is on all sides—6,000 men would be required to properly man the guns. Five men can work the guns, but there should be seven, and there should be in such a case, three distinct parties to take their turns at the guns, or reliefs, as they are called. Outside of the moat are water batteries. The danger now would come from the land side. On that side there are no casemates, except those which protect the gates. The fort is built on a point of land of about 120 acres, and is connected with the main land by a long strip of land 200 feet wide and a mile and a quarter or more long. You see if the place is assaulted, the forces must come over this strip of sandy land. Now pointed over this strip of land are a large number of guns of heavy caliber, and a number of mortars; and any forces coming over would be exposed to a terrible fire, and no doubt destroyed. In addition to this strip, there is another long and narrow strip that, with a bridge, leads to Hampton. The bridge is now down, and a picket guard is established on either side; on one side by the regulars, and on the other by the Hampton people. The guard is more than a mile out from the Fort. The guard (regulars thus far) feel that it is very uncertain whether they return to the fort alive, when they go out there. Sixty acres are inclosed by the fort, the other sixty are built upon, and it is quite a watering place. Sentinels are set all over the village outside at night.—These buildings will probably be destroyed soon, as they would afford aid to an enemy, and will be in the way in case of an attack. There is a large hotel, owned partly and kept by a Union man—a brother of Willard at Washington.

The government machine shop is outside the walls, and is now operated by machinists from our companies, John C. Briggs being foreman. Nearly all outsiders are strong secessionists, and are by degrees leaving, as they know they would be destroyed if they did not. Inside the fort there are several three-story brick houses, and several long ranges of barracks, barns, store-houses, a church, and in addition, a number of houses, as they call them, built in the casemates, which are arches in the walls, ten feet high and as many wide, in which, when the fort is in war condition, the guns are placed, firing them, of course, through holes in the walls. These arches are divided across the middle and formed into two rooms. The officers of our several companies, as well as many of those here, occupy these houses.

The officers of the fort here are extremely pleasant.

SCENE IN THE SENATE CHAMBER.—A volunteer from Massachusetts writes to the Boston Herald as follows:

This afternoon our quarters were visited by a large number of ladies and gentlemen, and about 5 o'clock the Senate Chamber was the scene of a singular sight to us New England boys. The volunteer battalion known as Lane's Kansas battalion, visited us here, and several of them, including Gen. James Lane their commander, Col. Vinton of Wisconsin and Col. Vaughn of Kansas, addressed our boys with stirring Union words, which were received with repeated cheers. After these speeches Mrs. Daniels, the wife of one of the battalion, sang the "Star Spangled Banner," the military joining in the chorus to a man. After the chorus, Capt. Pratt of the Worcester Light Infantry presented the lady with a fine boquet, on behalf of his command, after which Dexter F. Parker Esq., who is serving as a private with the Worcester Light Infantry, responded to a call made for him, with a few touching remarks which brought tears to many a browned cheek.

EITHER WAY.—The north has furnished capital to the railroads, and now it has furnished a railroad to the capital.

The Extra Session of the Legislature.

The call of the governor of this state for an extra session of the legislature, to meet on Wednesday next, is probably induced from the fact that more efficient aid to the general government must be extended from the northwestern states.

The troops necessary to protect the Mississippi valley from the incursions of hostile forces from the south, and to open the Mississippi river, from its source to its mouth, must be numerous and well provided. It is evident that the general government has as much upon its hands as it can accomplish, to protect Washington, blockade the Atlantic ports and drive back and punish rebels, who are advancing upon the eastern states. It is, therefore, necessary to organize a western army, and the means and men for accomplishing this object must come from the west.

It is useless to conceal the fact that Missouri is hostile and may soon take her place among the seceding states. We have much reason to apprehend that in the end Kentucky will also be found on the side of the enemy. Should this be the case Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and the Union men of Missouri will need help. It is well to prepare for the worst, and be ready to meet the threatened danger at once. Prompt and vigorous action now may prevent much of the evil, which is sure to come if we are not known by the enemies of public order to be prepared to put them down. This being the case, Wisconsin has something to do, and a part to act in the great drama.

The legislature about to assemble will probably be called upon to vote for the expenditure of more money than the $200,000 already appropriated, and to provide further means for arming and sustaining an increased number of Wisconsin troops. Some more practical method of enlisting men, paying the expenses of volunteers previous to being mustered into the service of the United states, should be adopted, and providing for the families of volunteers. Private subscription has done much for this object, but it would be far better and more just for the whole property of the state to bear these expenses. Although the cost of this extra session will be considerable, we believe it is necessary, and that the people will approve of the action of the governor in calling the legislature together; and that they will cheerfully respond to the necessary expenditures for placing the state on a war footing.

GOT AROUND.—The Albany (N. Y.) Argus, which has heretofore sympathized with the south, and urged a compromise as the proper method of settling the difficulties of the government, is now an advocate of decisive measures. It says:

"Let us not be misunderstood as at all tender about the property of our enemies at the south, now waging war upon us. In the course of this conflict it will be our duty to assail them in property as in person—to capture their ships and cargoes, quarter troops upon them, and batter down their cities, if need be, to reach their citadels.—We should be no more tender of their property, in this sense, than of their persons; and slave property must take its chance with the rest."

That kind of talk will do very well for a compromiser.

THREE YEARS' ENLISTMENT.—An impression prevails among some of the troops not yet received into the United States service, that if they enlist under the second call for three years they must serve the three years, war or no war. This is a mistake. The enlistment is for three years, unless sooner discharged, which means unless the war is ended and they are no longer needed. The government has as little desire to retain a large body of men on pay when there is no service for them to do, as the men have to be retained; and those who go for three years may feel perfectly sure that whenever the war is over their service is over, if the time is three weeks or three years.

A RESIGNATION OF THE RIGHT KIND.—Judge Campbell, of Alabama, has resigned his seat on the U. S. supreme bench. All right! It will require but a short time to make that court a protector of liberty instead of a citiadel of slavery.

WHAT IS CONTRABAND OF WAR.—By treaties of the United States with France, Great Britain, Sweden, Spain, Prussia, the Netherlands, Brazil, Central America, Mexico, Chili, Equador, Peru, Venezuela, New Grenada and the two Sicilies, goods contraband of war, which are subject to seizure by a belligerent if found on board a neutral ship, to be conveyed to an enemy's ports, are expressly designated as—

1. All arms and ammunition.
2. Bucklers, helmets, breastplates, coats of mail, infantry plates, and clothes made up in a military form and for military use.
3. Cavalry belts and horses, with their furniture.
4. All kinds of arms and instruments of iron, steel, brass and copper, or of any other materials, manufactured, prepared and formed expressly for the purpose of war, either by sea or land.
5. Provisions to a beseiged or blockaded place; and those places only are beseiged which are actually attacked by a force capable of preventing the entry of a vessel.

War Items.

Ellsworth's Zouaves are in Washington, and would like very much to be sent on service in Virginia, and they are not unlikely to be among the first corps ordered there, when the time comes. Some of them say that the best thing to be done with themselves is to march them over the long bridge, between Washington and Virginia, and then take away the draw.

It is understood that Fort Pickens will not attack the rebels first. They are to be left to the effects of the rapid demoralization which is going on in their army around Pensacola. The Charleston Mercury of the 25th of April represents their condition as desperate.

Solomon Sturges, of Chicago, has tendered the war department his fleet of steam tugs, including the McQueen and Union, the latter new, and the former known thro'out the entire region of the lakes as the finest, staunchest and fleetest vessel of her class afloat. These tugs can be taken through the Illinois and Michigan canal to the Mississippi river.

We regret that Lieut. Slemmer was superceded in the command of Fort Pickens. He is the compeer of Anderson in bravery and efficiency. When Commodore Armstrong, through imbecility and treachery, surrendered the navy yard at Pensacola, Lieut. Slemmer spiked the guns of Fort Barrancas, ordered the destruction of all the stores, powder, etc., therein, and with thirty men, threw himself into Fort Pickens, and defended it for some months, until he was reinforced. He should have been permitted to continue in command.

The New York Tribune says the main portion of the fleet to blockade the southern ports will be at sea within a week. It will consist of fifty war vessels, with steam transports sufficient to accommodate a land army of 20,000 men. They will blockade every port whose entrance has six feet of water. The army on board will require the rebels to keep in arms, at the various assailable points of their coast, an aggregate of at least 120,000 men. How Jeff. Davis will pay and feed this force remains to be seen.

Brooks Elias Connor, the individual that tampered with government dispatches, was tried by Court Martial at Annapolis, Friday, and found guilty. Sentence is reserved.

Secession in Kentucky received a staggering blow on Saturday, (says the Louisville Journal,) and Louisville covered herself with imperishable honor. There were 8,112 votes cast for the Union delegate ticket, when the aggregate vote of the city at the presidential election was only 7,453.

LATEST FROM CAIRO.—Mosquitoes in full blossom with every promise of a full crop. These man-eaters in that region are very frequently shot for snipes, the difference being in the length of the bill. We don't vouch for this, nor the other statement that they steal scythe rifles from the farmers, to keep their bills in order.

ANOTHER UNION MAN SHOT.—The Detroit Free Press says that Sebastian Lauer, who was residing at Memphis, Tenn., with his mother, where they went some two years ago from Monroe, Mich., was shot a few days since for refusing to join the confederate forces. He was attempting to escape on horseback, and was shot from his horse.

EFFECTS OF THE EMBARGO.—The marine list of the port of Richmond, Va., no longer appears in the columns of the Richmond Daily Whig. The commerce of that city is wiped out.

Col. Mansfield inspected the arms in the navy yard at Washington, and instead of the three thousand stand expected, found nearly sixty thousand.

Jefferson Davis, in his late message, confesses that only 8,000,000 of the $15,000,000 confederate loan was subscribed.

GEN. NYE AS A VIRGINIA PLANTER.—On Saturday night, about twelve o'clock, Gen. Sherman of New York and Mr. F. L. Buxton of Philadelphia visited a drinking saloon on Pennsylvania avenue, which had been represented to them as a secession resort. They found there three city policemen, all favorable to the rebels, and after obtaining some important information, left and walked to the capitol. Having gained the confidence of the landlord, they called again upon their return, and found one of the parties for whom they were looking. They succeeded in convincing him that he was in the hands of friends, and he was kind enough to accept a commission from them to destroy a bridge on the road to Annapolis, and procure sufficient aid, so to break up the track as to prevent the further passage of the military to Washington. To complete the contract, Messrs. Sherman and Buxton took the gentleman in a carriage to Willard's, and introduced him to two Virginia planters, in the persons of Gen. J. W. Nye of New York, and Col. Vaughan of Kansas. To these gentlemen he gave complete evidence that he had been concerned in these vagabondish tricks before, and he was therefore escorted to the armory of the Clay battalion, and on the following morning handed over to the marshal of the District. On Saturday night he gave his name as Pearson, and on Sunday morning as Wright. He was till lately, an engineer on the Baltimore and Annapolis railroad. He is connected by ties of intimate friendship and affection with Bob Haswell and Wash Goodrich, the notorious Baltimore plugs.—Cor. Philadelphia Inquirer.

GOLD COMING WEST TO BUY GRAIN.—The New York World of Tuesday says:

"The banks are sending coin to the west for purchase of grain, as the farmers in that section generally decline to sell for the western currency, and grain can be bought cheap in the agricultural districts for specie, which is very scarce throughout the whole northwest. This movement will place the west in a sound financial position, and the immediate as well as permanent interests of the farmers in that section demand that they shall have exact specie, or its certain equivalent, for all the grain they sell before parting with it."

In connection with this subject we are happy to learn that one of our city banks (the Merchants Loan and Trust), has received within the past ten days, two hundred thousand dollars in gold. This is a move in the right direction.—Chicago Tribune.

A Washington reporter writes—"Two balloons have been sent to this place by order of Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island.—They are in charge of an experienced ærial voyager, and will be used when necessary, under the orders of Gen. Scott."

Washington an Arsenal and a Camp.

Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, May 3.

This is not only a city of magnificent distances, but of magnificent imaginations.—Men will start at fears of their own creation, and rumors they know to be unfounded.—One evening you will be entertained with the particulars of firing into American vessels from secession batteries; and the next, dangers are excited by the near approach of Davis' horrid southern army. We have no definite intelligence of southern movements, and hence many dark forebodings.

Every day adds to the thousands of soldiers already here. Upon the completion of fortifications soon to be commenced, this city will be placed beyond the possibility of a successful attack. Then, with a complete blockade of the ports in the rebel states, and a large army on the Mississippi, near the line of the free and the slave states, the chivalry of the sunny south will be coiled in their own net, and powerless, unless they invade our northern homes. They know too well the fearful retribution that would follow, to undertake so hazardous an experiment.

To-day I walked through the marble halls of the senate chamber and hall of representatives of one of the greatest nations and best governments in the world. How great the change a few weeks have made. Every doorway and portico is barricaded with barrels filled with cement. Each room within is occupied by armed men. In the main passageway muskets are being cleaned and put in order. Scattered throughout the house are arms and knapsacks. Behind the chair where sat the amiable Pennington is a bulletin-board for the regiment. While the members of the different companies are felicitating themselves, how faithfully the country is being represented in the war congress now in session. The same picture is presented in the senate chamber.—The chairs which Davis, Benjamin and Hammond occupied, when they boldly published to the world disunion and rebellion, are daily filled by some of the mudsills from Lowell; and the chair where Breckinridge sat when he winked at treason holds muskets from the Massachusetts armory. The traitors have gone; their places are vacant; the echoes of their delusive madness have died away, but they have awakened an energy and installed in their seats a power which will defend the constitution, banish treason, and punish traitors.

It is becoming that the 6th Massachusetts regiment should fill the places cursed by such enemies to freedom and mankind. Here is another Cromwell Parliament made up of the descendents of the Puritans.—Squads drill in the different halls, and the resounding clangor of arms awakens serious reflections upon the civilization and refinement of the nineteenth century. It all shows the stern necessity and impending danger which could have impelled the men of the North to buckle on the armor and peril property and life in defense of those institutions which have given us all our greatness.

The capitol buildings are filled with Massachusetts and New York troops. The 5th Massachusetts regiment has the old Representatives' Hall and the rotunda. That gallant regiment, which in itself is a type of American industry and civilization, which furnishes men from all pursuits known to American labor, from making a row-boat to building a man-of-war,—from making a wooden clock to constructing and putting together a locomotive—lay themselves down upon the hard floor, and at one glance at the various paintings which adorn its sides, read the whole history of the country, from the discovery of the Mississippi and the landing of the Pilgrims until now, yet many of them little dream that they are the active participators in stirring scenes which will form one of the most brilliant chapters in the world's history, and which upon the canvas of some future American painter will adorn a panel in the same rotanda.

The Hall of Representatives was occupied by the New York 7th until yesterday afternoon, when they went to camp. The New York Fire Zouaves arriving last night, took the same quarters.

You might suppose that the assembling of so many armed men would led to some noise and disturbance, but nothing of the kind. The police have but little to do; there is no rioting and but little drinking. All seem intent on the object for which they came—not to strike down, but protect.

We have certainly illustrated the virtue, if it be one, on the part of a stronger toward a weaker foe. The foot of no federal soldier has as yet pressed the soil of a seceded State. Yet, in their frenzied rebellion, they have fired upon a fort almost unarmed, protected by a small garrison, nearly starved; they have endeavored to capture our vessels; with a savage brutality, they have endeavored to commission privateers, to renew once more the almost-forgotton tragedies of a pirate's deck; and have threatened to attack, capture and hold, or else burn, plunder and destroy the Capital. All this has been done by them and suffered by us.

It is said here that Maryland is becoming more loyal. I have but little confidence in that loyalty which results from the apprehension of pecuniary loss and commercial disaster, or from the fear of annihilation by the Northern avalanche which was fast rolling toward them. C. H. V. W.

A DIFFICULTY PROMPTLY SETTLED.—Adjutant General Utley was yesterday called out to Camp Randall to investigate a muss raised, as it appeared, by the instrumentality of the ensign of the Fox Lake company. His language in the camp and about the city had been disrespectful to his superior officers and unsoldierly. Gen. Utley promptly told the company if the ensign's sentiments were theirs, they would be dismissed at once. The captain and lieutenant of the company, who are both gentlemen and good soldiers, repudiated the ensign's doings, as did the company. No commission having been issued to the officers of this company, commissions were then made out for the captain and lieutenant, and a new election of ensign ordered. —Madison Argus.

HOW THE CONFEDERATE ARMY IS RECRUITED.—The Montgomery Mail says that "Judge Harris, of the Ocmulgee circuit, has adopted a new plan of ridding his dockets of assault and battery cases, which is not a bad idea."

This "new plan" which "is not a bad idea," is the following:

At the superior court, held last week, as we learn from the Macon Telegraph, two persons indicted for fighting offences, were discharged on condition that they should enlist in the Georgia army, the judge taking occasion to say to them that they might indulge their belligerent propensities by fighting Lincoln's men without the fear of fine or imprisonment.

MRS. LINCOLN'S SISTER.—An Alabama paper says:

"The Magnolia cadets, of Salem, Alabama, before leaving for the seat of war, were presented with a beautiful flag, by a sister of Mrs. Lincoln, whom the Salem papers pronounced as true a southern woman as ever lived.

THE THIEVES.—The amount of southern indebtedness due in New York, that has been repudiated is $230,000,000. This sum the infernal rascals propose to actually steal from New York merchants. No civilized nation ever suffered an equal outrage. This sum is ten times the loss by the great New York fire of 1835.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

WASHINGTON, May 9.

New Orleans papers of Saturday received. It is stated in a letter that the Texas Commissioners had been kindly received by Indian tribes. They are in favor of secession.

The schooner Twilight, employed by the federal government in carrying orders to Fort Tortugas, was seized and put into service.

Gov. Vidauicre disclaims that Mexico had anything to do with recent atrocities committed by the Indians, and thinks parties in Texas are preparing to invade his territory, and says he will defend his country to the last.

NEW YORK, May 9.

The fire in Washington this forenoon was set in four places by secessionists.

Traitors at Magnolia, Delaware, had seized a lot of U. S. arms stored there by Union men. The leaders will doubtless be dealt with according to law.

WASHINGTON, May 9.

The 3d regiment from Kentucky has offered its services, and will form part of the brigade to be commanded by Major Anderson.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, May 9.

The steamer Grey Eagle, while passing through a draw of the railroad bridge, struck the pier on the larboard side, cutting her in two, and she sunk immediately. Boat and cargo a total loss. The clerk reports no lives lost, but it is believed several are drowned.

HARRISBURG, May 9.

An officer from the Chambersburg camp brings the intelligence that Tuesday morning the Virginians seized the heights on the Maryland side of the Potomac, and were engaged in fortifying them. A number of secession troops bordering on 6000 were then there and to be increased by the arrival of 1200 from Kentucky. Four companies of cavalry which marched from Carlisle barracks on Monday, and passed thro' Maryland, have reached General Scott's line.

WASHINGTON, May 9.

Judge Scarborough, of Virginia, of the court of common pleas, has resigned.

MADISON, May 9.

The governor issued a proclamation today convening the legislature for special session on Wednesday, the 15th of May, for the purpose of providing more completely for making the power of state useful to the government, and other loyal states.

MONTGOMERY, May 9.

Congress to-day has been spent mostly in secret session, but it is understood that its attention was engaged in perfecting arrangements for a vigorous and successful prosecution of the war, and placing the southern confederacy in the best possible condition of defence.

It is also understood, contrary to what was supposed, that the southern confederacy has the control of sufficient arms, ordnance and amunition of every description, to put into the field 150,000 men for one year's campaign.

HARRISBURG, May 9.

The house has passed a bill creating a three million loan. It raises fifteen regiments beyond both requirements of the federal government, making a total of fifty-five regiments. Ninety-two of the hundred members were present.

The bill for the relief of volunteers now in service, passed both houses to-day and was signed by the governor.

It is reported that there are 25,000 troops within a radius of fifty miles from Richmond.

There were 15,000 troops in Tennessee and Kentucky, whose supposed destination was Cairo.

WASHINGTON, May 9.

The letter to the minister of France is said to be an index to the European correspondence.

It is said that the government has received an account of an interview with Palmerston. The result was that no foreign power will recognize the right of the confederate states.

FREDERICK, May 9.

A company of eighty men passed through here from Baltimore for Harper's Ferry.

The New York Herald's New Orleans despatch says that 3,000 applications were received for letters of marque, many from foreign states.

Three thousand five hundred troops were reviewed by the governor yesterday.

The legislature committee on federal relations reported, pronouncing war waged against the south unconstitutional and subversive to the principle on which the Union was founded, and sympathise deeply with southern brethren in defense of principle and self-government, and also implores the President to accept the olive branch held out to him by the confederate states, whose president repeatedly declared they only seek self-defence, and to be let alone. That Maryland desires a peaceable recognition by the independent confederate states, and gives her assent thereto; that the present occupation of Maryland is a flagrant violation of the constitution; he advises citizens to abstain from interference with the federal troops; and says, under existing circumstances it is inexpedient to call a sovereign convention

Hawes, of one part, ex-Senator Crittenden, Archie Dixon and Judge Nicholas, of the other, who agreed to recommend the Legislature to make appropriation for arming Kentucky under the direction of a military commission, composed of the Governor, Inspector-General and another person, to be selected by Unionists, and supposed that three millions will be required to arm the State.

WASHINGTON, May 9.

The president has appointed James C. Sloo surveyor of Cairo.

ST. LOUIS, May 9.

The collector of this port has received orders from the Secretary of the Treasury to examine the manifests of all steamers bound south, and compare them with their cargoes; and if arms, munitions of war, provisions or other supplies are found aboard, the vessel and cargo are to be confiscated and the owners arrested for treason.

Shipments to the south have been suspended.

About 1000 muskets and several pieces of cannon from Baton Rouge arrived by river this morning.

The Ohio troops will protect Cincinnati and the western portion of Virginia.

J. M. Ruggles arrived in this city yesterday morning from Washington, with dispatches from the war department to Gov. Yates.

Special despatch to the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, May 7.

There is some feeling expressed concerning the probable return to New York of the 7th regiment, at the expiration of their thirty days.

The city has been like one vast parade ground from early morning, and now, at 10 p. m., the shrill notes of the fife, the rubadub of the drum, and the tramp, tramp of our volunteers are sounding on the pavements of Pennsylvania avenue. New Jersey's four regiments have figured extensively and creditably. Their men are intelligent, orderly and in good condition, while the neatness of their equipage, and correctness of their drill, elicited hearty commendation from those who examined them today. They are quartered on either side of the avenue, occupying private houses and two or three small hotels. They number, all told, 3,100 men, of whom four companies are guarding the road between this point and Annapolis.

The 28th regiment, New York state, all of whose men are Germans and reside in Brooklyn, and of whom one-third have smelt fire in Europe, were sworn in this afternoon, and took up their quarters in the old representative hall. No more substantial men are seen here, and every man reported well this morning.

Alexandrians boast of their secession principles, and the following paragraph may indicate to other sympathizers what such principles entail:

A considerable number of leading merchants of Alexandria have declined to renew their licenses, or in other words, have concluded to abandon their business there. The well-known banking house of Messrs. Corse & Bro. passed through all the bank troubles in this section occurring of late years, but died of secession. As it paid interest on deposits, many worthy persons may suffer severely by its suspension of payment. On Sunday night, seven slaves escaped from Alexandria and two from Alexandria county, and are by this time probably, in Pennsylvania. Virginia, in her ordinance of secession, formally released Pennsylvania from her late obligation to return fugitive slaves. So the owners of these nine may thank secesion for their loss.

Col. Curtiss, member of Congress from Iowa, has received authority to muster in the two regiments from that State, in case the United States officer for that purpose shall not have reached the rendezvous, and has been ordered to make preparations for their equipment.

Special despatch to the Chicago Tribune.

CAIRO, May 9.

Gen. Prentiss has received positive information from a certain general that Pillow has chartered the steamboats Ohio Belle, Morris, and Hill, for the attack on Cairo.

The weather is exceedingly warm to-day. No excitement here. Everything quiet as usual.

There have been no orders yet to stop boats and provisions.

A man was arrested to-day as a spy, who was recognized by a soldier as a man who attempted, with a crowd, to lynch him. He will be tried to-morrow (Friday.) There is great difficulty in preventing the men from treating him with violence.

Gen. Prentiss was waited upon by another Kentucky delegation to-day.

Special despatch to the Cincinnati Commercial.

WASHINGTON, May 8.

It is the officially announced determination of the Virginia government to contest the occupation of the right bank of the Potomac, opposite Washington. This is expected by the military authorities here, to result in a battle between the federal forces and the rebels now in close proximity to the capitol.

Gen. Scott is not quite prepared to advance troops to the other side of the river, owing to the want of cavalry, field artillery, and camp equipage; but a strong force will, nevertheless, cross the river, and assume and fortify positions near Alexandria, as soon as the necessary preparations are completed.

An immense freight train with stores for garrison has arrived from Baltimore. The regular transportation of passengers and freight from that city to Washington, will re-commence from this date. The passenger trains run daily each way.

All trains over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad are strictly searched by the federal troops now stationed at the Relay House, under command of Gen. Butler.

A similar process is applied by Virginia forces at Harper's Ferry.

Advices at the treasury department announce a concerted movement among financiers in Philadelphia, New York and Boston to take the $15,000,000 loan at par.

The steamer Cambridge arrived from Boston via Fort Monroe, threw several additional Massachusetts companies into the fort. She reports that most active preparations for defence were going on at the fort, and that as yet no batteries were erected on the right bank of the Potomac.

I learn from from the war department that ten thousand more troops will be here in the course of six days only, fully armed and equipped. The volunteer regiments will be called hither after this. The forces now here continue to be vigorously drilled. Some corps have already commenced target practice. Brigade and division drills will soon be installed.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.

Tribune correspondence.—Senators Wilson and Hale, with the Secretary of War, had a long interview with the president concerning the coming proclamation.

It is definitely ascertained that commissioned navy officers have gone to Europe to buy steamers and other vessels for the U. S. government.

Capt. McDonnell, U. S. A. recruiting agent at Baltimore, sent a report to the war department announcing 300 recruits for the regular service.

There is a rumor here that Missouri state troops in command of Gov. Jackson, have invested St. Louis. There are some 800 troops under arms commanded by F. P. Blair, jr., in defence of the city.

Rebel forces in large numbers are being concentrated at Alexandria with heavy ordinance, it would seem with the intention of fortifying themselves against a systematic approach to this city.

Times correspondence.—19 regiments in addition to those previously ordered, have been called to come here immediately.

General Patterson has advanced on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore road as far as Bush river.

It is expected in anticipation of threatened movements on the part of forces in Virginia, federal troops will occupy Arlington heights.

The treasury has now ample means in specie for all necessities. They have this morning between two and three million dollars in vaults. There are offers of loans to any extent, already exceeding $5,000,000, nearly all at par.

BALTIMORE, May 9.

Thirteen hundred troops from Perrysville landed at Locust Point, the cars, which departed immediately, are supposed for Washington.

The collector with 200 police crossed in a ferry boat to Locust Point and were present at the debarkation.

The Harriet Lane stood off the point with her ports open.

This morning the operators on the telegraph line located on the Northern Central railroad were dismissed and others acting under the government placed in charge.

The train is announced to leave Harrisburg for Washington to-morrow. It is believed that troops will at once move toward the city. The road will be controlled by government officials.

Several British vessels consigned to Norfolk by reason of blockade.

Capt. Robinson, late commander at Fort McHenry, has been ordered to Detroit to receive recruits.

World's Correspondence—Gen. Harney is acting with Gen. Butler at the Relay House. The frigate Niagara is destined to blockade Charleston.

Gen. Beauregard, with Russell of the London Times, had arrived at Montgomery on the 5th inst.

The government continues to be overwhelmed with offers of naval and land forces for service. Prominent men from all parts of the country are constantly coming here for the purpose of tendering aid. Over 50 vessels have already been offered, to be armed and equipped at the owner's expense.

Business at Alexandria is suspended. Virginia flag is flying on the custom house, and 400 Virginia troops are in the city ready to leave as soon as the federal troops appear, having done so twice on a false alarm.

LOUISVILLE, May 9.

The house yesterday, by a vote of 76 against 7, passed a resolution asking the governor to communicate the names of the agents employed for the purchase of arms, the amount, character and number of arms purchased, and if received what disposition has been made thereof.

In the senate Mr. Simpson introduced a resolution, which lies over, that the governor be requested to issue a proclamation forthwith prohibiting the passage of armed men from Tennessee or elsewhere through Kentucky for the purpose of attacking

NEW YORK, May 10.

Gen'l Beauregard's official report of the bombardment of Fort Sumter is printed today.

The 1st Vermont regiment has arrived here.

NEW YORK, May 10.

The Times has advices per the Kedar, that the secessionists have a battery of 68 pounders at the mouth of the James river. The steam tug Yankee was fired on but the shell passed over her. The tents of the secession forces lining the whole bank of the river are distinctly seen from the ramparts of Fort Monroe. Col. Dimmick is mounting 10 inch Columbiads and barbette guns on the land side, and the fort is to be protected by sand bag entrenchments. The big gun Roman, formerly the Floyd, is mounted to sweep the bay.

The Austrian brig Islock, from London, reports, April 12th fell in with large ship about 12 or 1500 tons on fire, supposed to be lumber laden; sent boat, saw nobody on board; name was burned.

BALTIMORE, May 8.

The special correspondent of the American telegraphed from Frederick this morning, that the mountain forrest on the Maryland side of the Potomac, near Harper's Ferry, was fired last night and much valuable timber destroyed.

About 800 Kentuckians and Virginians were encamped upon the Maryland shore, and the heights in that vicinity were being fortified. A battery had been placed at Jefferson Rock. Trains have also been laid in pipes for blowing up the bridges and other property at a moments notice if necessary. The conduct of the Virginians excites indignation among the people of Washington county. Thirty Baltimoreans passed through Frederick for Harper's Ferry this morning. The Norfolk line steamer reports that the Virginians have seized the small steamer Wm. Seldon, which made the connection between Old Point and Norfolk, thus all communication is broken off.

NEW YORK, May 10.

The steamship Illinois arrived from Fort Pickins on the eve of the 2d and Key West on the morning of the 6th. The Powhattan, Brooklyn, Sabine, Supply, Wyandotte and Water Witch were off Ft. Pickins. The Mohawk left on the 1st for the coast of Texas. A partial blockade exists at Pensacola. No munitions of war are allowed to enter. Fort Pickins is prepared to repel any attack. The secessionists have a new battery at Deer Point. They have also commenced to unroof the buildings of the navy yard, preparatory to an attack.—Their forces are rumored to be 6,000. All was quiet at Key West. The St. Louis and Crusader were there.

BOSTON, May 10.

The steamer Pembroke sailed this a. m. for Fort Monroe with reinforcements. She carries a heavy armament and a larger quantity of clothing, provisions and munitions of war.

Attention, National Guard!

Every member of the National Guard is particularly requested to be at the company's quarters promptly at 7 o'clock this (Friday) evening, as the question of the three years' enlistment required by the President's proclamation, will be acted upon before the hour of drill. Others desirous of joining this company, to fill vacancies, will be received.

IRA JUSTIN, Jr., Cap't.

A Card.—The officers and members of the Janesville Light Guard take this method of returning thanks to Mrs. A. H. Hathaway for the beautiful and appropriate badges, presented by her, through Brother Burgess, too each member of the company pledging themselves never to dishonor the emblem thereon, and to hold themselves in readiness at a moment's notice to rally at our country's call, to fight for the glorious old flag, and to protect the lives and honor of our mothers, wives and sisters.

By order of the Company.

Route Agent.—Theodore Knudeson, of Milwaukee, has been appointed route agent on the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien railroad, in place of Ira Brickley, and has entered upon his duties.

Military Drill.

Col. White's class will meet on Monday and Thursday evenings for drill until further notice.

At the last meeting an assessment was made of one dollar on each member of the class. This assessment should be paid to the Treasurer, Amos P. Prichard, esq., at once. A. A. JACKSON, Sec'y.

☞ Peterson's magazine for June is received at the news stand in the Postoffice. Union cockades for sale at the same place; also note paper and envelopes stamped with the National colors.

For the Whole War.—We learn that a vote has been taken in the Light Guards as to an enlistment for three years, and that there were only two dissenting votes to enlist for that period. Good for the Guards.

Volunteers Returned.—Nine members of Capt. Ely's company returned to this city last evening, being unwilling to enlist for three years (unless sooner discharged,) as required by the government. The places of two were filled in the camp; one of the returned members will go back. Two others desire to return, and their cases are under consideration. This leaves four vacancies, for which Capt. Ely will receive applications until to-morrow noon.

It is supposed that in some of the companies the number of refusals to enlist for the full term will be quite large, and the small number among the Janesville volunteers who were unwilling to go for the full time is highly creditable to the company.

The peanut is cultivated in Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, &c. It is planted in ridges about three feet apart, and the vine stands up about a foot in perpendicular height. The stems shoot out in all directions from it for about fifteen inches around. These runners have joints about an inch and a half apart, and at each joint a strong root strikes down into the ground about two inches deep; at the end of this root the pea-pod is formed, and comes to maturity. Some farmers cover these lateral vines with earth, while others leave them bare all the time. It is not agreed which is the better mode. When ripe, one bunch of vines will have from one to two quarts of peas.

One acre will produce from thiry-five to fifty bushels of peas.

A war with the south will be apt to raise the price of this favorite production. What will the boys do?

Northern Banks will not Imitate Southern Usages.—Some apprehension is expressed at the south lest the banks in the free states may dishonestly refuse to honor drafts on the balances left in their drawers. We can say for them that there is no ground for this apprehension, and that they will not imitate the dishonesty of some southern debtors. The following despatch has been addressed by the president of one of our leading banks here to a firm in New Orleans:

New York, May 4, 1861.

Messrs. ...., New Orleans—

Gentlemen: I have yours of — ——. I telegraphed you to-day (according to your request) as follows: "Under no possible circumstances will balances due you be confiscated here."

You say in your letter that you know nothing of our political sentiments. On that subject, it is perhaps only necessary to say, we have not forsaken our principles, our country or our God.

Yours with respect, ——.

What the South Proposes to do with Washington when they Take it.—A correspondent of the Baltimore American, writing from Charleston, under date of April 19th, says:

With us, with all our people, with citizens and soldiers, there is an intense desire to capture Washington. The mania for possessing the seat of the federal government is tenfold stronger than it was ever before. To drive out the republican president and his hordes of Hoosier office-holders, is the dearest wish of the popular heart.

"What will you do with the city when it is taken?" said I to a South Carolina friend, "you can't use it is the seat of government—it is on the border, and too far north."

"We will take all the paintings, statues and articles of historical interest, and adorn Montgomery with them. We will then raze the city, demolish the capitol, and erect a simple marble slab on the highest bill amid the desolation, upon which shall be inscribed the simple words, "In memoriam."

A Mistake Corrected.—Down south there is a prevalent error that northerners are on their way to steal negroes. This is a mistake; they are on their way to steel rebels, if necessary.

GOING SOUTH.

Tune—Yankee Doodle.

The Janesville boys send compliments,
And accept the invitation,
To attend a party in the south,
On business of the nation.
CHORUS.
Our flag is floating in the sky,
We march securely under;
Our hearty greeting presently
We'll give in tones of thunder.

Our fare you need not care about,
We know you are not wealthy;
We use gunpowder tea ourselves,
You may not think it healthy.
Chorus—Our flag, &c.

A little sugar, if you please,
Or, if don't, no matter;
We'll pay in honest iron coin,
Or lead—perhaps the better.
Chorus—Our flag, &c.

We'll bring some patent pills along,
For sickness called "Secession,"
They cured you once, you recollect,
A. Jackson was physician.
Chorus—Our flag, &c.

You 're full of bile, and have, besides,
A damaged "Constitution;"
We'll prop you up with bayonets,
Upon your cotton cushion.
Chorus—Our flag, &c.

We'll dose you well, and wait to see
A perfect operation;
And then, on Independence day,
We'll have a celebration.
Chorus—Our flag, &c.

Hurrah! hurrah! the Janesville boys
Are on the march, in order
To plant the sacred Stars and Stripes
Across the southern border.
Chorus—Our flag, &c.

From the Chicago Journal.

A Northern Lake Captain from the South.

Capt. H. D. Thompson, an old lake captain, formerly residing at Buffalo, arrived in this city yesterday, direct from Pensacola, Florida, via New Orleans. He had been residing at Pensacola, and left there a week ago last Friday, having been "warned" by the rebels, because he was a northern man, and not deeming it safe to remain in their midst.

There were only about 2,000 rebel troops at Pensacola when he left, and many of these were leaving, being fully convinced of the folly of attempting to capture Ft. Pickens, which Capt. Thompson says cannot be done. He was there when the fort was reinforced, and says when the rockets were sent up from the fort, celebrating the event, the rebels on the shore ground their teeth in rage, but couldn't help themselves.

The prices of provisions were going up rapidly, and the mills were stopping, and all kinds of trade and business were at a stand-still.

At New Orleans, there were great fears of a negro insurrection, and three or four military companies were stationed in the arsenal, preparatory to such an event. The negroes had threatened and attempted to fire the city, and they are now closely watched. The statement that the slaves of any portion of the South would fight against the North, Capt. Thompson says is all humbug. They are ready to take advantage of circumstances to strike for liberty, at the first opportunity. He was astonished, when conversing with some slaves in the various Gulf States, to find how well posted they all are as to current events and politics.—He says the negroes are much more intelligent than the "poor whites," who are very ignorant, and the stupid dupes and tools of the politicians. The negroes obtain their information from the hotels, where waiters overhear the discussions at table, and then communicate what they learn to the other negroes. He says he has heard more than one slave in Mississippi express the hope that "de good time am a-comin'."

At New Orleans a company of negroes had offered their services to the "Confederates," and been accepted, but were afterwards rejected, the officers being suspicious of them.

The assertions of the New Orleans and other southern papers about merchants being very liberal for the war and offering to give their clerks advance pay and keep along their salaries while absent, if they would join the confederate army, is totally false. On careful inquiry, Capt. Thompson says he ascertained that not a single offer of the kind had been made; but that the papers make these statements for the purpose of putting as good a face as possible upon their side of the picture.

New Orleans, and indeed the whole south is in a state of anarchy and terror. Thousands of people are leaving for the north, and thousands more would do so if they had the means. The volunteer companies are chiefly made up of poor men who have nothing else to do, and most of whom would go north if they could. There were some three thousand military in New Orleans when he was there, and a large number of these were about to depart for Virginia.—Such a hard-looking, dirty, ruffianly and besotted lot of men Capt. Thompson says he never saw in his life as are these southern soldiers, not only in New Orleans, but wherever he saw any of them. The decent people are ashamed as well as afraid of these military desperadoes, composed, as they generally are, of the very worst class of society.

Capt. Thompson confirms the reports of the military preparations in progress all along the Mississippi between Cairo and New Orleans, and the general lawlessness and ruffianism that rule the hour. Stimulated by the false pretences of their leaders and by bad whisky, the soldiery all have unshaken faith that they can "whip the north" very easily. He says that at Memphis he saw the steam-tug Gordon Grant, which was formerly on the Chicago river; she is in the service of the rebels to "scrutinize" the river.

He says there are many intelligent people at the south who are for the Union, but they dare not express their sentiments, fearing violence from the drunken rabble. At Bay St. Louis, a fashionable summer resort in Mississippi, a clergyman was recently tarred, feathered and rode out of town for expressing sentiments that were deemed objectionable.

A Bad Scare on the Traitor Twiggs.—Besides this, all the towns and residences on the Lake shore and the gulf coast beyond the Rigelets where Fort Pike is situated, are liable to be pillaged and burned by expeditions sent in open boats and barges from the enemy's ships anchored in the neighborhood; to say nothing of the possibility of light-draught gun boats and yachts being employed for the double object of capturing the New Orleans and Mobile steamboats, and ravaging the intervening coasts. Gen. Twiggs, who has a residence at Pascagoma, looking at the situation with his practiced military eye, entertains serious apprehensions of results such as we have described; and the general feels well assured that the Lincoln forces sent out to punish treason and rebellion, will not fail to embrace the first convenient opportunity for burning the house and laying waste the property of so conspicuous a "traitor" and "rebel" as himself. We have the authority of this experienced officer for declaring that the situation is one which calls for immediate defensive measures.—N. O. Delta.

What the Secessionists have done thus far.—Abolished the Fourth of July; given up the stars and stripes; defrauded northern creditors; stolen some millions of the national treasury; fired into an unarmed steamer; established a mock constitution which they dare not submit to the people; captured a half starved fortress; lowered the price of niggers fifty per cent; and made themselves a bye-word and a hissing throughout the civilized world.

How the Rhode Island Regiment Uniforms.—In some respects the Rhode Island regiment is considered the crack regiment of the war. It is not that the men are any braver, but they were at once ready for a campaign, as they brought provisions for three months. This was a feature that proved the completeness of their discipline and is the first case in our country where a volunteer regiment, at a few days notice, were ready to act as an independent army for three months.

The Rhode Island regiment, under the command of Gov. Sprague, attracts the attention of all, not only for the reason that they are well drilled, but from the singular fact that they are all of one height, one style of look, shape and action, and in their Garibaldi uniforms, armed with rifles with sword bayonets, present a truly fighting appearance. The dress is the army regulation hat, blue woolen frocks, reaching nearly to the knee, gray pants and scarlet knapsacks. They will fight, and are most eager for the fray. Gov. Sprague shares with them the life of the soldier. With the exception of epaulettes, yellow plumes and sword, his dress is the same as the soldiers.

Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island had made arrangements for a temporary absence from his forces, but receiving an intimation today that his troops would soon move southward, and that if he desired to be with them, he had better remain. He at once gave up his contemplated trip, re-assumed charge of his well equipped regiment, and with them, is ready to march at a moment's warning. His force numbers 1,380, including the marine artillery company, whose practice is pronounced by army officers to be equal to any they have ever seen.

New Plan for Iron Gunboats.—We have before us an engraved model of an English steam gunboat, drawn by John Westwood, an experienced machinist, and ready to be manufactured by the well known firm of George Stacy & Co., of Cincinnati. The model represents the boat 180 feet in length, and 50 feet breadth of beam, carrying four guns—which has been recently constructed for the British navy.—The boat is constructed throughout of four inch iron, which is capable of resisting the fire of guns as powerful as an eight inch Columbiad. The form of the boat is convex, with an iron roof, so that all the operations of the machinery and the working of the guns are carried on under cover, while the convex iron presented everywhere to balls and shells, secures the boat from being perforated or sunk, as every projectile must glance on coming in contact with the boat.

Messrs. Stacy & Co. propose to build steam gunboats on this model, but smaller, drawing only three feet of water, to adapt them to the western rivers, and 120 feet in length, for the sum of $10,000 each. This does not include the armament.

As we entertain no doubt that our government must sooner or later have vessels of this construction, for the peculiar emergency of river warfare and blockade, we commend the matter to the immediate attention of those interested.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material,

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry, on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

ATHENS MARBLE

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish

Cut Stone

of every description,

PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGIN

of any required dimension.

Curbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing

stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.
